PLAY OUT, BUT THERE ARE CERTAIN PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS THAT ARE BUILT TO LAST. OUR EDITORS IDENTIFY 170 TRUE LIVING LEGENDS.*

1 THE
MONOGRAM
It has been used as royal seal, artisan's mark, family
crest—and with preppy pride. We value it most as a way to transform quotidian objects—a notebook, a pencil, pajamas—into one-of-a-kind objets. GOYARD

MEMBERSHIP
The allure of the private club remains strong. We hear Gwyneth Paltrow is opening one in L.A., and this past June, Devonshire arrived in London with all the traditional hallmarks of a member's-only club—the camaraderie, the drinks—without the stuffy, dark (read: men-only) decor. The interiors team March & White, best known for its work on megayachts, was inspired by “an elegant young lady who likes to go powerboating and wears vintage Chanel.” Though you too, sir, are welcome inside.

PRIVACY

It remains the rarest of luxuries, but it is far less elusive if a speedboat, convertible, and helicopter are ever on hand. MERCEDES-BENZ S-CLASS CABRIOLET (FROM $131,400) AND YACHT ($2.8 MILLION), MBUSA.COM; AIRBUS HELICOPTER WITH INTERIORS BY MERCEDES-BENZ (PRICE ON REQUEST), AIRBUS.COM

MANIFEST DESTINY

Lewis, Clark, and Sacagawea popularized the cross-country trek. With new branches on the West Coast, Lauren, Armani, and the Waldorf follow in their footsteps.

GIORGIO ARMANI SAN FRANCISCO

WALDORF ASTORIA BEVERLY HILLS

LEON CHEW (DEVONSHIRE CLUB); OSKAR LANDI (ARMANI STORE)
