Expertise and Excellence

Dinner in the library of the Racquet & Tennis Club to celebrate "100 Years of Women in Design."

The Decorators Club, America's oldest women's organization dedicated to the interior design profession, celebrated its 100th anniversary at a Gala Dinner where 300 guests gathered at the Racquet & Tennis Club to celebrate "100 Years of Women in Design." Honorary Chairman James Druckman, President and CEO of the New York Design Center, was honored for his generous support of the Club and design community. In addition, Michael Bruno, founder of 1st Dibs, was honored as the evening's benefactor. The Decorators Club membership includes women in all areas of the field of decorative arts. The evening benefitted the club's Education Fund, which annually underwrites a series of student scholarships.
